

Ministerial Development DAYS

JOHN RINALDO, D.MIN

Keynote Speaker

Parents as Partners

We all know the saying: "Parents are the primary educators of the faith." How are our parents doing with that responsibility?

Successful ministry requires that parents become the center of our formation efforts.

But not as the object of our formation, but as the chief formator themselves. During our time together, we will explore the complexity of the modern family and how we can practically and concretely rejuvenate our ministry efforts with families.
