

The Sisters of Charity of New York and the Sisters of Charity of Saint Elizabeth, at their joint Assembly in April, decided to continue their commitment to Laudato Si' with a special emphasis on Food Justice. We invite you to the first talk in a four part series:

Faith and Food
with James Ennis of Catholic Rural Life
September 11, 2023, 6:00-7:30 PM EDT

Ennis will explore how faith should inform the ways we see food and land. He will invite us to examine our role as consumers in working toward food justice and share concrete action steps that we can take, especially advocating for the 2023 Farm Bill

James Ennis is Executive Director of Catholic Rural Life <https://catholicrurallife.org/>
Under Ennis's leadership, the organization's threefold mission includes advocating for a more sustainable food supply, strengthening the spiritual well-being of America's rural communities, and inspiring a sense of wonder about the natural world for today and for the future.
