

WHAT IS FLOCKNOTE?

Most dioceses and parishes can't reach their people when they need to most...in between Sundays, or if they stop showing up on Sundays. We help you fix that with a smarter way to text message and email parishioners – whether it's the parish or the whole diocese.

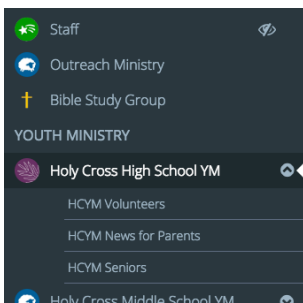

Reach your people. Hear back.

Flocknote helps you reach people where they're already at, in their inboxes and via text message. There's nothing for your members to download, and no need for them to sign up for anything to stay connected with you. Organize your network into different groups, empower leaders to manage their own groups, and capture replies in one place.

Measure your success.

Know who's getting the messages you send and who isn't. Flocknote's analytics give you everything you need – opens, clicks, unsubscribes, and more – to help you continually hone those communication chops you've worked so hard to build up.

Simple enough for any leader to use.

Unlike most email marketing tools and church database programs, Flocknote was made to help anyone from the savviest of diocesan employees to the least tech-savvy parish volunteer be a great communicator. With Flocknote, you can make sure everyone at church has the power to manage their own piece of the pie and no one else's.
