ANNOUNCEMENT

Parish Music Survey

The archdiocesan Commission on Sacred Music has written a parish music program survey. The last one was sent five years ago, and since then, much has changed in the life of our parishes. The results of that survey set the stage for music workshops and programs that were introduced from that time. The Commission would like to “take the pulse” of our parish music programs to see where things stand and how the Liturgy Office might be of service in this area.

If you visit <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/2019ADNYparishmusicsurvey>, you will find a short, fourteen question survey. It covers a variety of topics, including: music directors, instrumentation, choirs, hymnals, parts of the Mass that are regularly sung, and workshops that may be of interest or helpful.

Pastors are kindly asked to complete this survey, or have their parish music director do so, if this is preferred. If you have any questions, please direct them to Father Matthew Ernest at the Liturgy Office (liturgy@archny.org). Thank you, in advance, for your participation in this poll.
