

"What is urgently called for is a general mobilization of consciences and a united ethical effort to activate a great campaign in support of life. All together, we must build a new culture of life." –Pope St. John Paul II, The Gospel of Life, no. 95.

Parochial Self-Assessment: Implementation of Pastoral Plan for Pro-Life Activities

In 1995, Pope St. John Paul II's encyclical, entitled Evangelum Vitae, called upon all the resources of the Church—its people, services, and institutions—to pursue pro-life efforts with renewed energy and commitment in four major areas: Prayer and Worship, Public Information and Education, Pastoral Care, and Public Policy Advocacy.

This self-assessment is meant to evaluate the success of and dedication to fulfilling the Holy Father's call to action.

How do we PRAY? (In what ways does our parish "storm Heaven"—and encourage our faithful to do so—in defense against the Culture of Death?)

How do we EDUCATE? (What efforts do we undertake to deepen respect for human life and heighten public opposition to life issues—BOTH in the Catholic community we serve, AND for the general public?)

How do we ACT? (What pastoral care efforts do we initiate and what pro-life action groups/agencies do we support and participate in to support life?)

How do we ADVOCATE? (How do we fulfill our responsibility of cooperation and collaboration with advocacy efforts by citizens at all levels to achieve both the long- and short-term goals of a comprehensive pro-life public policy program?)
